For Anti-Militarism and Proletarian Internationalism

Peace is impossible in capitalism because war is a product of its inherent contradictions. On the one hand, war is the military expression of the struggle of classes. In times of economic growth, “bourgeois progress” is witnessed by the containment of the working class through competition and commodities. In times of crises, the trade of arms becomes the only sector of the economy that keeps growing, and it is then that the imperialist war – for example in Russia in 1917, Germany in 1918, Italy in 1940, etc. – can be financed by the exploitation of the working class and the intensity of its struggle.

Our strategy in the current times is, then, the need to articulate anti-militarism with the struggles of the working class. In the first place, we must explain to the workers of every country that the real reason for war is the political class, and that the working class is the one that suffers the worst consequences of this policy. This war is a part of the working class’s struggle against the capitalist class. It is an effort to stop the war in order to stop the exploitation, the suffering and the degradation of the working class.

The working class is the one that suffers the most from war, not just because of the direct consequences of the war, but also because of the indirect effects of the war. The war has a direct impact on the economy, causing a decrease in production and a decrease in the standard of living. This is because the war takes resources away from the production of other goods, which are essential for the survival of the working class. The war also causes a decrease in the purchasing power of the working class, as the cost of living increases.

To combat this, we must organize the working class to take control of the means of production and distribute them according to the needs of the working class. This way, we can create a new economic system that is free from the exploitation of the working class.

We must also organize the working class to take control of the government and the state. This way, we can use the state to carry out the policies that are needed to end the war and to create a new society that is free from exploitation. The state is the tool that the capitalist class uses to maintain its power, and we must organize to take control of it and use it to serve the interests of the working class.

We must also organize the working class to take control of the media and the communications. This way, we can use the media to spread the message of anti-militarism and the need for a new society that is free from exploitation. The media is the tool that the capitalist class uses to control the minds of the working class, and we must organize to take control of it and use it to serve the interests of the working class.

We must also organize the working class to take control of the schools and the universities. This way, we can use the schools and universities to educate the working class about the need for a new society that is free from exploitation. The schools and universities are the tool that the capitalist class uses to control the minds of the working class, and we must organize to take control of them and use them to serve the interests of the working class.

We must also organize the working class to take control of the churches and the religious organizations. This way, we can use the churches and religious organizations to spread the message of anti-militarism and the need for a new society that is free from exploitation. The churches and religious organizations are the tool that the capitalist class uses to control the minds of the working class, and we must organize to take control of them and use them to serve the interests of the working class.

We must also organize the working class to take control of the unions and the trade unions. This way, we can use the unions and trade unions to carry out the policies that are needed to end the war and to create a new society that is free from exploitation. The unions and trade unions are the tool that the capitalist class uses to control the working class, and we must organize to take control of them and use them to serve the interests of the working class.

We must also organize the working class to take control of the political parties. This way, we can use the political parties to carry out the policies that are needed to end the war and to create a new society that is free from exploitation. The political parties are the tool that the capitalist class uses to control the working class, and we must organize to take control of them and use them to serve the interests of the working class.

We must also organize the working class to take control of the military. This way, we can use the military to carry out the policies that are needed to end the war and to create a new society that is free from exploitation. The military is the tool that the capitalist class uses to control the working class, and we must organize to take control of it and use it to serve the interests of the working class.
For a United Class Union Front! Agreement, class struggle, the Bourgeoisie and Region Unions

Before we’re publishing the flyer that this week was printed in the West End News on Saturday, January 18, 2020. It was also printed in the East London News and the student newspaper the Daily Anchor.

The rally, called by the SI Cobas, was the largest of its kind in years. SI Cobas, the Milanese component of the Workers’ Coordination for the Unity of the Majority of the local grassroots union, had long been ignored by the trade union leadership in Turin. Often militant unionists find themselves in conflict with the management while the leadership of the SI Cobas is the main opposition on the local trade union scene. Often, the SI Cobas leadership has focused on SI Cobas because it is the main opposition on the local trade union scene.
